

FEE TERMS

Noshadha Law Firm provides three methods to calculate the applicable fees:

1. fee per unit of time, this is an amount per chargeable (part of an) hour for services provided. The rate depends on the specific aspects of the case. The tariff will be decided in the beginning of the professional relationship and will not be adapted, unless both the Noshadha Law Firm (Executor) and the Client agree to it. In general and unless another tariff is agreed upon, the hourly fee is agreed and set according to contract between the Executor and the Client at minimum 3000 UAH (€ 100) and maximum 12000 UAH (€ 400) depends on difficulty of case (for complicated or urgent matters or extremely simple cases the hourly tariff may be respectively higher or lower).

2. fee related to the value of the case, in other words, charging a percentage of the value of the case expressed in money according to contract between the Executor and the Client. To calculate the value of the case, both the principal and the interests must be taken into account. Unless agreed otherwise in writing, the following percentages apply (with a minimum of 20000 UAH):

case amount (UAH)	service percentage of value of the case
from 0 to 200000	17%
from 200000 to 1000000	15%
from 1000001 to 3000000	10%
from 3000001 to 7000000	8%
from 7000001 to 15000000	6%
above 15000000	5%

These percentages apply to the amounts that the client has won, saved or documents of case.

Here too, corrections or other coefficients may apply.

When the claim is manifestly unfounded, or if the amount claimed is manifestly excessive, the Executor shall not apply the percentage on the clearly excessive or unfounded part of the claim. In case of appeal, the fees are increased by 50%.

3. fee related to the nature of the case, i.e. a fixed amount per service or series of services. However, this method can only be used in some specific cases. If applicable, the amount will be discussed beforehand.

EXPENSES

Besides fees, there are also expenses. They are charged separately to the client. According to contract between the Executor and the Client, expenses are amounts that the Executive incurs in carrying out a task assigned to him on behalf of the client.
